

DON'T THROW YOUR BABY AWAY!

Danielle Montgomery – Her Story

She was standing in the corner of her bedroom that she shared with her younger sister Emily, staring out the window. She was crying, nervous and confused in denial that she was pregnant. The size of her stomach forced her into reality, denial was replaced by fear and embarrassment. She didn't know HIM very well. She did not know his last name, where he lived or anything about his family, all she knew was that his name was Eddie. Feeling alone and afraid, she also felt that she had to get rid of it (the baby)! Now, It's been several months and she hasn't told anyone, not even her best friend. One day she began to feel severe pain, and after a while she began to push, giving birth to a baby boy, she was confused and scared, she immediately took the baby, wrapped him in a sheet and placed him in a black plastic garbage bag and disposed him.

Hi my name is Danielle and I am 14 years old. The baby boy I gave birth to died, that evening my mother and my little sister 10 years old found the baby while they were searching for a document that my mom assumed she threw away by accident.

I was charged with murder, and I regret it even today.

Please speak with someone if you are pregnant, it will not be easy but at least you wouldn't have to hide

THIS IS WHAT TO DO!

STEP 1: FIND SOMEONE TO SPEAK WITH.

STEP 2: SEEK PRENATAL CARE.

STEP 3: IF YOU DECIDE THAT YOU DON'T WANT THE BABY THEN GET PROFESSIONAL COUNSELING.

THE LAW

THE LAW SAYS YOU CAN ABANDON YOUR BABY BUT YOU MUST DO IT THE LEGAL WAY. For the complete law go to www.leg.state.nv.us/19thspecial/reports/ or www.HelpBabies.com

This law is known as S.B 191 or Safe Haven Bill, the law was past May 31, 2001. This law differs from state to state. It's purpose is to save the life of the newborn. It gives the birth mother a way out, another alternative.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHAT DO YOU MEAN "NO QUESTIONS ASKED! "?

No one will ask you any questions at all, not even your name. An employee of an emergency service provider can not demand or require that you answer their questions before they take your newborn. It is against the law for someone to make you answer any questions while you are giving up your baby. This law is not intended to refuse or reject a biological parent who wants to give up their baby. However, if the baby appears to have been harmed you are required by law to give your name, refusal can lead to being put in jail. If you want to volunteer information about you, your health, your family or the baby you can. If you would like to write a letter or leave a note for the baby so he can read it when it gets older you can.

WHERE CAN I ABANDON MY BABY?

Currently AND Legally, the only place you can abandon your baby is at any FIRE DEPARTMENT, HOSPITAL, or OBSTETRIC CENTER (OB/GYN DOCTOR), YOU CAN DIAL 911 FOR EMS, in Nevada.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO ME IF I ABANDON MY BABY? If you abandon your baby the legal way as mentioned above, there will be NO legal actions taken against you.

You always have a choice to make, a safe and healthy decision for your baby before he/she is born. Most importantly, please make a healthy and safe decision for your baby, deliver him or her safe and unharmed.

HOW OLD CAN THE BABY BE?

In this law, for the state of Nevada, the baby must not be more than 30 days old. If the baby is older don't leave the child unattended, call Child Protective Services and go for counseling.

DO I NEED ID, BIRTH CERTIFICATES, OTHER DOCUMENTS FOR ME OR THE BABY?

NO! Documents are needed.

SUPPOSE I CHANGE MY MIND AND I WANT MY BABY BACK, WHAT THEN?

You only have a limited time to reclaim your baby after that all of your rights to that child are terminated as the mother/parent. So if you decide that you want your baby back you should contact Child Protective Services immediately, the longer you wait the less likely you'll get the baby back. It is very serious you can never go back and get any information related to that child.

WHAT HAPPENS TO MY BABY ONCE I ABANDON THE BABY LEGALLY?

If the NEWBORN is abandoned at the hospital, the baby will given an examination and a series of tests to determine if the child is healthy, a social worker will be notified and child protective services will be called. The baby then will be placed in either foster care, a private or state affiliated home, adoptive parent(s) will be sought. The newborn will be adoptive as soon as possible. If the NEWBORN is abandoned at the fire department or at any other legal destinations, the newborn will be taken to a hospital and the above procedure follow.

Every child deserves a chance to life and an opportunity to live life to the fullest.
